The Wireless Media Router 300N makes it possible to easily create a wireless network with a superior speed and a maximum range. The device is equipped with the advanced StreamEngine technology which gives priority to time-sensitive applications, such as the streaming of HD videos, gaming and download applications, in the network. Make full use of what this Concurrent Dual-band router has to offer by using simultaneously the standard 2.4 GHz frequency and the less congested 5 GHz frequency. The 5 GHz band offers optimal wireless performance for demanding applications without interference.
